DESCRIPTION

Cannette in Masseria Bernardini

There is one detail that makes this suite truly unique: its sloping roof, entirely rebuilt with bamboo poles tied by hand, one by one. A work of craftsmanship that captures the charm of ancient rural buildings, lending the rooms a warm, natural, and authentic atmosphere. Here, light filters gently through the weave of the ceiling, creating patterns of shadow that dance across the walls, while the silence of the farmhouse envelops every moment of relaxation. The suite consists of a cozy and refined double bedroom, an intimate bathroom with meticulous attention to detail, and a bright living room where the French-sized futon sofa bed offers an additional place to rest. Rounding out the apartment is a small, functional kitchen, perfect for preparing a leisurely breakfast or a dinner to enjoy under the farmhouse's starry sky. Every room, including the kitchen, features a French door—a detail that not only floods the interior with light but also allows guests to experience the perfect blend of indoor and outdoor spaces. All rooms overlook the inner garden, a quiet corner where centuries-old olive trees intertwine their branches with fragrant citrus trees, offering a panorama of greenery and serenity. This apartment is a true oasis of tranquility and privacy, ideal for those seeking a refuge away from the chaos, immersed in the timeless beauty of the Salento countryside. Perfect for couples seeking intimacy or for those who wish to reconnect with nature, the Bamboo Roof Suite is a place where time seems to slow down, amid the rustling of leaves and the scent of sun-warmed earth.
