DESCRIPTION

Rettangolo in Masseria Bernardini

The Pietra Antica Suite is a perfect blend of the charm of the past and the comfort of the present. Its regular rectangular layout, combined with the exterior construction of local stone blocks, gives this residence an aura of authenticity and nobility, typical of historic Salento farmhouses. Here, the warmth of tradition meets the freshness of modern design, creating a welcoming atmosphere where every corner tells a story, while at the same time meeting the needs of those seeking the utmost in comfort. The suite's interior strikes a perfect balance between functionality and style: two elegant and spacious double bedrooms offer the utmost privacy and comfort, while the two well-spaced bathrooms ensure convenience and independence for every guest. The large central living room, with its French-sized futon sofa bed, transforms into a versatile and convivial space, ideal for moments of relaxation or for sharing dinners and laughter with friends. The kitchen completes the living area, creating the perfect setting for those who love to feel at home even while on vacation. A key feature of this suite is its connection to the outdoors. Every room, including the living room, features a French door that provides direct access to the farmhouse's main courtyard. From here, the view opens onto a lush garden, where the tranquility of the surrounding nature envelops every moment of your stay. Ideal for families or groups of friends, the Suite della Pietra Antica is a haven of serenity where the charm of ancient stone blends with modern light, creating a unique and welcoming atmosphere.
