DESCRIPTION

Quattro Archi in Masseria Bernardini

Once a shelter for the farm's sheepfolds, today the "I Quattro Archi" Suite is an authentic, charming residence where history blends harmoniously with the elegance of contemporary design. Partially carved into the bedrock and built with ancient blocks of local stone, this residence enchants with its unique structure, characterized by four stone arches that frame the openings of the house, creating a perfect dialogue between interior and exterior. Inside, every room is enveloped by the charm of the stone vaults, which evoke a sense of warmth and security. The space unfolds with balance and harmony: the spacious central living area, enhanced by a refined dining room, opens onto an open-concept kitchen—perfect for those who love sharing convivial moments in a welcoming atmosphere. The two master bedrooms, intimate and quiet, are designed to offer the utmost in comfort and privacy, while the two elegant and functional bathrooms complete the home's layout. A special feature of this suite is its direct connection to nature: every room, including the living room, features a French door that allows natural light to filter gently into the spaces and provides independent access to the outdoors. Everything overlooks a beautiful inner courtyard, where the blue of the pool invites you to relax under the Salento sky. Designed for those seeking an authentic stay that blends comfort and tradition, the "I Quattro Archi" Suite is the ideal choice for families with children or groups of friends, thanks to its private layout that guarantees freedom and privacy for every guest. Here, every detail tells a story of stone, light, and life.
