A SLICE OF PARADISE IN ABRUZZO, ITALY

VIDEO: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GivlqKDnvo&t=> A luxury villa is on sale in Roseto degli Abruzzi, one of the most renowned seaside resorts on the Abruzzo Riviera. Also known as the "Beach of Roses" for the clear sea and the long golden beaches. The estate is completely surrounded by greenery. A unique location, harmoniously integrated where humans and landscape meet. A place of absolute peace, though very close from the town centre. The infinite stretch of the Adriatic Sea offers itself in front of you. The majestic Gran Sasso mountain is behind you with its breath-taking scenarios. You will be surprised by the mansion, where an articulated architecture and a mixture of styles perfectly merge. The original villa dates back to the beginning of 1900. It was restructured in 2000. The most precious elements of the original building - like the little tower and the vaulted ceilings - were left, and emphasized by contemporary design elements. The restauration and expansion project was signed by Mario D'Urbano, a very renowned Italian architect. The project goal was to recover the original portion, while creating a new contrasting modern portion aside. The new portion was built in exposed reinforced concrete and hand-laid San Marco brickwork. Wherever you are, either inside or outside, you are allowed to appreciate the whole structure....
